Temporary supply interruption of parenteral nutrition products

4th October 2021

Dear Valued Customer

With patient care and safety at the forefront of our organisation, B. Braun CAPS must advise you of a temporary supply interruption of parenteral nutrition products. The temporary interruption in supply is due to manufacturing delays associated with training and requalification of staff. We do not yet have confirmation of the duration of the supply disruption. We will provide more information later this week, no later than Friday.

We understand this will cause concern for your hospital and patients. We sincerely apologise for this service interruption and will work with you to the best of our ability to identify supply alternatives in the interim. We confirm that we have a stock of three chamber PN bags.

We are conscious of the pivotal nature that our Central Admixture Pharmacy Services play in the Irish health system and we rely on your continued trust and co-operation whilst we address these manufacturing delays.

We are fully committed to return to the reliable supply levels that you are accustomed to as quickly as possible during this challenging period.

Please have no hesitation to contact our customer service department 01 7091850 or cs.ie@BBraun.com for further support.

Yours Sincerely

Liam Ferguson
