What is Hydromol Bath & Shower Emollient?

Hydromol Bath & Shower Emollient is a bath or shower additive used to treat any condition in which dry skin is a feature such as eczema, ichthyosis (hereditary dry skin) and senile pruritus (itching that may occur in old age). It can also be used instead of soap. The combination of oils is designed to relieve itching, to lubricate and soften the skin and form a film on the skin surface to reduce moisture loss. Hydromol Bath & Shower Emollient contains light liquid paraffin, isopropyl myristate, iso-octyl stearate, laureth 3 and macrogol-7 glycerol cocoate.

How to use Hydromol Bath & Shower Emollient

For external use only. Only be applied to the skin. Hydromol Bath & Shower Emollient is particularly suitable for infants. Hydromol Bath & Shower Emollient should always be either added to water or applied to wet skin.

For use in the bath – Adults, children and the elderly: Add 1-3 inner capfuls to a 20 centimetre (8 inch) bath of water. Soak for 10-15 minutes. Infants: Add ½-2 inner capfuls to a small bath of water.

For use in the shower - Pour a small quantity on to a wet sponge or flannel and rub on to wet skin. Rinse and pat dry. If you have been prescribed Hydromol Bath & Shower Emollient by a doctor or nurse follow his/her instructions on use.

Warnings and precautions

Do not use Hydromol Bath & Shower Emollient if you are allergic (hypersensitive) to light liquid paraffin, isopropyl myristate or any of the ingredients of Hydromol Bath & Shower Emollient. Take care to avoid slipping in the bath or shower. Avoid contact with the eyes, in the event of accidental contact rinse well with water.

No side effects of Hydromol Bath & Shower Emollient have been reported.
